NHS App

Future developments

Looking ahead – future developments

GP Video Consultation

Allows users to have on-the-go video consultations with qualified NHS doctors through the NHS App on their mobile device. Provides patients with easy access to medical practitioners.

Online Consultations and NHS App integration

The NHS App development team are currently working on integrating online consultation systems with the NHS App.

Working collaboratively developing and validating this work with approved online consultations suppliers so the integration will be successful and enable suppliers to quickly onboard and implement.

NHS England is committed to ensure there will be equal access to all other suppliers on existing frameworks to connect to the NHS App once the technical developments to support integration have been completed.

e-Referral Service

The NHS e-Referral Service (e-RS) combines electronic booking with a choice of place, date and time for first hospital or clinic appointments. Patients can choose their initial hospital or clinic appointment, book it in the GP surgery at the point of referral, or later at home on the phone or online.
